ANNIVERSARY OF CAVALRY FIELD MARKER TO BE NOTED

Members of the American Legion, Company K of the North-South Shoot and the Civil War Round Table will meet Thursday evening at 5 o'clock on E. Cavalry field to mark the 75th anniversary of the placing of a marker commemorating one of the nation's greatest cavalry victories.

Final plans for the observance were completed over the weekend. The marker, erected October 15, 1884, when 500 cavalymen came from throughout the U. S. to mark the placing of the 27-foot high granite monument, honors the defeat of 6,000 Confederate cavalymen by 3,000 Union horsemen on the afternoon of July 3, 1863.

No Boasting In Granite
The U. S. cavalry had suffered defeat after defeat from 1861 to 1863, before winning their first victory at Brandy Station less than a month before the Battle of Gettysburg. There they had an element of surprise in their favor. They proved that the U. S. cavalry had come of age at Gettysburg. They decisively defeated the Confederates although outnumbered and fighting in a field selected to a large extent by the Confederates.

While aware that they had won a great victory, the Union cavalymen did not boast on their monument. It states, plainly: "This shaft marks the field of the engagement between the Union cavalry commanded by Brig. Gen. D. McM. Gregg and the Confederate cavalry commanded by Maj. Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, July 3, 1863." There is no word on the marker as to which side won.

Never More Brilliant
But General Gregg, a resident of Reading, on the day of dedication 75 years ago, told his group: "All will agree, they never fought on a fairer field. Neither party

FATAL CRASH ACTIONS ARE SETTLED HERE

Settlement of the actions in trespass brought by Melvin M. Sharrer, New Oxford R. 2, against Baxter Paul Harmon, Biglerville R. 1, and Clyde H. Funt, Arendtsville, for $16,500 was effected this morning as the jury was being called to begin the case.

Judge Dale Shugart was scheduled to especially preside at the trial to be held in the new court room established during the last two weeks in the Historical Society rooms in the basement of the court house.

When the jury had been sworn it was informed of the settlement and given a directed verdict.

The jury included George H. Anderson, East Berlin R. 1; Clarence Bucher, Cashtown; Walter Frederick, Arendtsville; Bruce Hartman, Biglerville R. 2; Mrs. Alma Hummelbaugh, 5 Buford Ave.; Mrs. Marie Sollenberger, 1 Steinwehr Ave.; Ralph Spertzel, Idaville; Mrs. Marion Swisher, Gettysburg R. 1; Miss Jean Thomas, Biglerville; Mrs. Anna Allison, Arendtsville; Clair Arnold, York Springs, and Worthy A. Crabbs, Littlestown.

Foreman Signs Verdict

Foreman Anderson signed a verdict in the trespass action brought by Sharrer individually against the two men which provides that Harmon and Funt pay $10,000 to Sharrer. The other two verdicts were in the case brought by Sharrer as administrator of the estate of his late wife, Susanna M. Sharrer. In the "wrongful death" part of the action, the two upper counties are to pay Sharrer $4,500 and in the "survivor" action they are to pay $2,000.

The defendants will also pay all costs in the case. The actions resulted from an automobile accident February 4, 1957, one-fourth mile south of Biglerville. Sharrer was driving south with Mrs. Harmon and Funt were driving north and according to police reports at the time, were racing side by side when Harmon's car struck Sharrer's. Sharrer was injured and his wife killed in the crash.

Attorneys Charles Wolf and Donald G. Oyler represented Sharrer. The law firms of Bigham and Ruffenberger and Brown, Swope and MacPhail represented the defendants.

BANDS HAVE BUSY WEEK

A special rehearsal for the combined elementary school bands will be held at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening at the Eisenhower School preparatory to participation in Friday evening's dedication ceremony at the Eisenhower School, Band Director Robert Zeigler announced today.

The members of the Keefauver and Eisenhower School bands will combine to present a concert at 6:45 o'clock Friday night at the dedication exercises. Among soloists will be William Deal, trombone; Richard Harmon, clarinet; Hollace Imbler, cornet, and Edith Baker, flute.

The activities Wednesday and Friday by the elementary band is but part of the scheduled activities for the various public school bands this week.

Both the junior and senior high school bands will appear at the Lions Club benefit football game Thursday evening. The junior band will take to the field for the pre-game ceremonies. The senior band and majorettes will display their marching talents at half-time.

Friday evening the senior band will accompany the local high school football squad to Middletown for the game there.

Director Zeigler also reported the recent sale of raw peanuts by the band boosters was a "great success." More than 2,400 bags of peanuts were sold and additional ones have been ordered for sale during the holiday seasons.

20,420 VISITORS

The Gettysburg National Park office today reported 20,420 visitors to the battlefield in the week ending Saturday. That total included 18,556 by car, 1,684 by bus and 180 who were escorted by park personnel.

ENOUGH LOCAL MEETINGS FOR MOST FOLK

Gettysburg's residents, to a large extent, are certain there are enough organizations, meetings and activities being held locally and want no more.

The decision was revealed in a survey made by the Adams County unit of the White House Conference on the Needs of Youths and Adults.

A meeting of the committee was held Sunday afternoon at Trinity United Church of Christ, S. Stratton St., at which the four sub-committees into which the county committee was divided gave their reports. The four reports will be correlated into a county-wide report to be sent to the state White House Conference committee on October 15.

37 Want More Meetings

John Shainline, chairman of a committee which studied the effect of various activities which take adults out of the home and thus away from their children, reported his group sent questionnaires to 400 persons. Of that number 317 were returned and 280 said they had more than enough meetings and activities to attend at the present time and opposed additional activities. The remaining 32 apparently felt they could squeeze in time for more organizational activities.

Mrs. Henry T. Bream, who had headed up the White House Conference committee in the county in 1950, was chairman of a committee which evaluated the advancements made in the county to alleviate the problems found nine years ago. The report showed much has been done and much remains to be done to implement the recommendations of 1950.

Reports Read

John B. Kendlhart read the report of the committee headed by Donald B. Hudson which studied the assimilation of minority groups into the county and community. The report held that one of the factors militating against rapid assimilation of minority groups is a lack of leadership among these

Mr. Trembow, mentioned in the appended dispatch, was not available for further comment today, but Mrs. Trembow said he would be available Tuesday. The Trembows have resided in Orrtanna for ten years. They are natives of Ukraine and lived through the purges there. They managed to reach Germany and then came to this country under the sponsorship of I. Z. Musselman.

The Trembows have four children, a girl, 18, born in Ukraine; a son, 15, born in Germany, and two daughters, 7 and 3, born in this country.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Testimony of nine witnesses on purges, terrorism and man-made famine in the Ukraine during the 1930s and 1940s has been released in a new congressional report titled "The Crimes of Khrushchev."

The report, second of a series being released by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, contains testimony taken Sept. 9, 10 and 11 prior to the arrival of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev on Sept. 15 for his U. S. tour.

The committee referred to the closed door sessions with the witnesses as consultations.

Nicholas Prychodko, an engineer from Toronto, testified he lived in the Ukraine during the 1930-33 famine. The Ukraine is one of the Soviet Union republics.

Exported Food Crop

Prychodko said most of the Ukrainian food crop was exported on orders from Moscow because of resistance in the Ukraine to the communists. He said that at that time Khrushchev was in the Frank Howe, 19, 135 South St., McSherrystown, was held for February court in Adams County under $1,000 bail Friday evening after a hearing before Justice of the Peace Lawrence K. Reth, McSherrystown, on an assault and battery charge brought by a neighbor, Paul W. Reese, 138 South St., in McSherrystown, involving Reese's daughter, aged 14. She screamed and escaped, it was testified.

YOUTH STRANGLES GIRL

L'ANSE, Mich. (AP)—A 10-year-old girl was strangled and her father shot to death Sunday night. A 16-year-old boy friend of an older sister was arrested as their killer. Held is Eugene Paquette of L'Anse, who, authorities said, interrupted television-watching to strangle Lila Lynn Frosland and then shoot her father, Edward Frosland, 44.

William G. Konstenius, county prosecutor, said Paquette orally admitted both slayings, but gave no motive. Konstenius said Paquette went to the Froslands' Upper Peninsula home 10 miles northeast of L'Anse to see one of two older Frosland daughters.

The girl he sought, a sister and their mother were at church. Only Lila Lynn and her father were home. She was watching television. The father was in bed.

WOMAN KILLED CLEANING GUN ON SATURDAY

Mrs. Aileen Carroll (Rial) Schwartz, 39, was fatally injured Saturday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock at her summer cottage four miles south of Emmitsburg on the Mud College Road, Rocky Ridge R. 1.

Maryland State policeman William Davis said Mrs. Schwartz and her husband, Harold Francis Xavier Schwartz, 43, had gone from their home in Chevy Chase Friday evening to the cottage located on the farm owned by Mrs. Schwartz' family in order to clean the place before closing it for the winter.

Mr. Schwartz was cleaning and oiling a shotgun and Mrs. Schwartz was cleaning a carbine preparatory to placing them in a case when she apparently struck the trigger of the carbine, which still had a shell in it.

The shot struck her in the chest, passing through the body and causing instant death, Trooper Davis said. Dr. E. O. Thomas, Frederick county deputy medical examiner, said the bullet pierced the heart. He signed a certificate listing the death as caused by an accidental gunshot wound.

A son, Paul Francis, 11, was playing at a nearby farm at the time of the accident. Another son, Peter Carroll, 11, was at Chevy Chase.

NCCW COUNCIL HOLDS SESSION HERE SUNDAY

Information concerning special diocesan activities provided the program at the 17th quarterly meeting of the Conewago Deanery Council of Catholic Women on Sunday afternoon in the cafeteria at St. Francis Xavier Parish here.

Mrs. David Pease, diocesan chairman of this committee, was introduced by Mrs. Edwin A. Killalea, president of the deanery council, and she traced the history of the work of her committee, noting that in 1928 a fund of $100 was set aside for a rural vacation school project. Three hundred children not attending Catholic schools received religious instructions that year. In two years, 11 schools had been established with almost 1,500 children attending. In 1940, the Harrisburg Diocesan Council of Catholic Women took upon themselves the financing of the vacation school project, and collected $2,000 in their "penny parade" drive. Now, there are 62 parishes with vacation schools and 153 Sisters giving 2,500 hours to the work.

Name Is Changed

The name of the committee has been changed from the Bishop's Fund for Diocesan Needs to Special Diocesan Activities, since the fund now embraces, in addition to the vacation schools, the migratory labor work, financial aid to students in non-sectarian colleges and youth work. Mrs. Pease stated that there are 1,600 students on the mailing list receiving chosen literature.

To tell of the youth portion of the activities, Mrs. Killalea presented Miss Gertrude Wright, Columbia, past diocesan president and a member of the Youth Advisory Council. Miss Wright said the largest amount of the fund is devoted by bishop to youth with the diocesan youth moderator, the Rev. Stephen Hribick, Steelton, in charge. This covers Girl Scouts, youth clubs, young adult

PRESIDENT OF MEXICO VISITS FARM OF HOST

President Eisenhower and his guest for the weekend, Adolfo Lopez Mateos, president of Mexico, concluded their informal talks at Camp David Sunday morning and returned to Washington. They had an early morning breakfast and drove away from Aspen Lodge shortly before 9 a.m. The President drove his guest to Blair House, then went across the street to the White House for a few minutes and then attended the late morning service at the National Presbyterian Church.

The two chiefs of state discussed a variety of subjects on the sun porch at the Catocin Mountain retreat.

Saturday afternoon they went to the Eisenhower farm for a brief tour of inspection. The Mexican president was introduced to Eisenhower's daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Eisenhower, and her children. The visit to the farm was private. Reporters and photographers who travel with the President were not invited.

Statement Today

At a press conference in mid-afternoon Saturday James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, and Justo Sierra, who holds a similar position with President Lopez Mateos, told reporters that the meetings were very friendly and relaxed. They reported that several Americans were in the group along with a similar number of Mexicans.

The Americans included: Secretary of State Herter, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother, Ambassador Hill, Major John Eisenhower, the President's son, and Hagerty.

The two press secretaries said that there would be a statement or communiqué on the outcome of the talks sometime today.

YORKER DIES SUDDENLY

Orion C. Stover, 51, York, died suddenly Sunday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock atop Mt. Newman.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said Stover was driving along the Lincoln Highway when he became ill and pulled into the Kane service station on Mt. Newman. He told attendants at the station of his illness and the Gettysburg ambulance was summoned, but death occurred before it could arrive. The coroner attributed the death to a heart attack.

Stover, an employee of the Blue Bird Silk Manufacturing Co., Inc., York, and a member of Bethany United Church of Christ, there, is survived by his wife, the former Golden See; his mother, Mrs. Olive Stover, York; two daughters, June and Jean Stover, at home; two brothers, Nelson Stover, York, and Clifford Stover, New Mexico, and two sisters, Mrs. Alice Cutshall and Mrs. Phyllis Will, both of York.

90TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Mary Goodermuth, 640 York St., is quietly observing her 90th birthday today. No special observance is planned. She is the mother of six children: John, Raymond, Norman and Albert Goodermuth and Mrs. Norman Rudisill, all of Gettysburg, and Mrs. William Sykes, Philadelphia.

More than 2,000 Adams County Republicans, constituents, friends and well-wishers, flocked into the South Mountain Fair Grounds, near Arendtsville, Saturday afternoon for a rally which stressed party unity and support.

The weather was perfect as autumn sunshine filtered through stately pine trees onto an enthusiastic crowd that milled about the pine-needle-covered area and the pavilion. Bands from the Biglerville and Gettysburg High Schools played spirited arrangements as smiling participants happily consumed 200 gallons of piping hot bean soup and countless hot dogs and soft drinks.

H. Earl Pitzer, program chairman, and chairman of the Adams presented a brief welcoming address and introduced the principal speaker, Judge Blair F. Gunther, Allegheny County, Superior Court, who is a candidate for the state Supreme Court.

Cites "Stay-at-Homes"

"Poor officials are elected by the good people who stay at home," said Judge Gunther, referring to an estimated 800,000 Republicans who did not register to vote. He added that there is a "lot of indifference, and too many stay-at-homes." Judge Gunther stressed the importance of "100 per cent support of the Republican ticket. We need a comfortable margin to make Pennsylvania safe for the Presidential election in 1960," he said.

He asked for the backing of state Republicans, and spoke of "your neighbor, President Eisenhower," in saying that the President would be on hand to vote and that, "if it is good for the President, it is good for the rest of the people in Pennsylvania."

Albert W. Johnson, member of the House of Representatives, and a candidate for Superior Court, was then introduced. He said that, "a big state-wide vote for Judge Gunther and myself will be a big shot in the arm for 1960 election needs." Johnson stated that "the present governor's insatiable lust for tax money will mean total victory in every county," and that the key to a 1960 Republican victory lies in the fact that "the Republican party gives the nation peace and prosperity at the same time."

Introduces Elliott

When Pitzer introduced Senator Douglas Elliott, Franklin County, he added that he (Pitzer) hoped soon to cast his vote for the senator for "Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania." Elliott said "I really am an Adams Countyman," and pointed out that he subscribed to area news.

WM. H. HAAR, 52, TAKES HIS LIFE WITH SHOTGUN

William Henry Haar, 52, East Berlin R. 2, a farm worker, committed suicide Sunday morning at 3 o'clock at the White Horse stables, a mile north of Hampton along the York Springs Rd., Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said today.

According to Dr. Crist Haar seated himself in a doorway and used a single barreled shotgun to cause his death. The shot entered the temple and came out the rear of the head.

State police said the body was discovered at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning by A. L. Lemmon, the owner of the stables. Lemmon had gone to the farm to feed the horses and after completing that work went out of the barn to the rear and discovered the rear door on the second floor of the barn was open. When he went to the door he found Haar's body.

Police Investigating

Haar had been an employee at the stables until about six weeks ago, state police said. The officers said they were continuing their investigation in an attempt to determine the ownership of the single shot, 12 gauge H and R shotgun. They said Haar had never been known to have a gun and there was none at the stables.

Haar had been engaged in farm work all his life. He became well known a number of years ago in the area when he assisted William Strayer in the operation of a threshing machine in the day when the rigs moved from farm to farm to help with the harvest.

A son of the late Robert and Susan (Stoke) Haar, he is survived by three brothers, George Haar, Mt. Holly Springs; John Haar, East Berlin R. 2, and Luke Haar, Dillsburg.

Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Pittenturf Funeral Home, York Springs, with the Rev. Dale Singer officiating. Interment in the Mt. Olivet-Lower Bermudian Cemetery. There will be no viewing.

papers in order to assure this, "I had a nice prepared speech," he said with a laugh, as he waved a lengthy manuscript. He noted that he had been asked to speak briefly in connection with a published timetable for the event. "It's just as well," he said, "for the last prepared speech I made caused some trouble."

"We can go into this election with the greatest confidence" because of the opposite standpoint of the opposing party. These he pointed out as being an interest only in "spending, taxing, and re-electing." He concluded by endorsing the two candidates for appellate courts, and echoed Judge Gunther's remark, "Poor officials are elected by the good people who stay at home."

Bloom Speaks

George W. Bloom, chairman of the state committee, said that to make good his promise to appear, he left Washington by plane at 7:30 a.m. for Pittsburgh, where he missed the Duke-Pitt game, before leaving for Harrisburg and South Mountain.

During recent and continued meetings of Republican leaders in all sections of the country, regarding the 1960 convention, he said that one nationwide observation evolves as a truth: "There is a resurgence of Republican enthusiasm everywhere." He cited the Republican victory in the Hawaiian Island elections, and more of the same in the recent Connecticut elections, "where thousands bounced back into the Republican fold." Bloom mentioned his state-wide efforts in "patching up difficulties" existing within the party and underscored the importance of success this year, if it was to be hoped for in 1960.

"Every election is important this year, more than ever," he said. He urged Republicans in the county to "roll up the biggest majority you can."

Predicts Victory

He warned against apathy: "Carrying the county by 1,000 votes is not enough; a margin of 2,000 3,000 or 4,000 will add to the party's support."

"The headlines on November 4 are going to read, 'Pennsylvania Goes Republican,' he predicted.

He said there is no need to fear a Russian attack, but rather, the state's current "irresponsible fiscal program," which constitutes the "real threat to destruction."

"Outside of bearing arms in a war, nothing is more important than taking an active part in politics. There are 1,500,000 unregistered voters in the state who lack the patriotism to vote." He made a comparison of the "regrettable conditions behind the Iron Curtain, where enslaved peoples lack a voting privilege."

Introduce County Candidates

A number of Adams County candidates were introduced. Among these was E. Donald Scott, county commissioner, who is seeking re-election. He said he and his running mates were "encouraged" by the turnout, and spoke of the importance of a November vote of straight Republican.

Also introduced was Mrs. A. W. Butterfield, vice chairman of the Adams County Republican Committee; Mrs. Ruth Frey, county auditor, and Donald Oyler, candidate for district attorney.

Carl Menchey, register and recorder, was introduced and said, "When it comes to speaking, I'm not there; when it comes to working, I am there."

Jacob W. Menges, candidate for prothonotary, Conewago Twp., spoke briefly. He re-emphasized the importance of a favorable turnout at the polls. Clarence J. Waybright, candidate for county remarks of Menges.

Other Guests

Other guests at the rally were Oliver Dickey, Carlisle, chairman of the Cumberland county committee; Theodore F. "Bud" Freed, York, chairman of the York county committee; Mrs. Nellie Grove, Dillsburg, vice chairman of the York committee; Mrs. Bittner, vice chairman of the Franklin county committee; George Eppinger, Chambersburg, district attorney of Franklin County, and Burgess Menges, of Hanover.

Sam Weiser, one of the oldest Republicans in the county, was present and reminded party leaders that he recalls being elected one of three delegates from Adams county, in 1897, who nominated Daniel Hastings for governor. The other delegates, Weiser said, were George Thorn and George Young.

The bus that was operated from Gettysburg to the grounds was donated by Wolf's Bus Lines, York Springs; the soft drinks were donated by Spence Beverage Company, Orrtanna; Shetter's catered.

President Eisenhower wrote Pitzer that he was unable to attend the rally because he was entertaining the president of Mexico over the weekend.

asked nor expected aid from the main armies beyond. It can safely be said that on no other field did Union cavalry, whether on foot or in the saddle, do more effective and brilliant fighting than this."

Col. William Brooke Rawles was the principal speaker at the dedicatory exercises in 1884. He recalled for the cavalymen present: "Unless this, the grandest attack of all, was checked, the day would go hard with the Army of the Potomac. It was Stuart's last reserve, for if the Baltimore Pike was to be reached and havoc created in our rear the critical moment had arrived as Pickett was even then moving up the assault of Cemetery Ridge.

"In close columns of squadrons riding as if in review, with sabres drawn and glistening like silver in the bright sunlight, the spectacle called forth a murmur of admiration."

Custer Led Charge

"Then Gregg rode over to the First Michigan which had formed close columns of squadrons and ordered it to charge . . . (Brig. General George) Custer (who was to be killed later by Sioux) placed himself at its head.

"As the two columns drew nearer and nearer the Confederates outnumbering their opponents three or four to one, the gait increased, first the trot, and then gallop. Hampton's (General Wade Hampton, Confederate Commander) battle flag floated in the van of the brigade.

"Custer waved his sabre and shouted 'Come on you Wolverines' and with a fearful yell, the First Michigan rushed on, Custer four lengths ahead."

Capt. Miller Key Man

During the cavalry fight one man broke his orders and won a medal of honor for it—for his action outflanked the Confederates. Capt. William E. Miller, of Carlisle, had his unit of the Third Pennsylvania Cavalry in a woods off the flank of the battle. His orders were to stay there. But when he saw the Confederates crashing into other units of the Third Pennsylvania and New Jersey troops, he ignored his orders and sent his men into the Confederate left, helping to disorganize the Confederates and assisting in forcing them to fall back ending the battle.

Miller was also the one principally responsible for placing the cavalry shaft. General Gregg, at the dedication 75 years ago, noted: "The successful completion of this work (the placing of the shaft) is mainly, nay, entirely due to the exertion of one of our number, Captain W. E. Miller of the 3rd Pennsylvania Cavalry."

By BEN BURROUGHS

"I APPRECIATE"

I am not rich in world things... but I have come to find... I'm wealthy in the things that give... a wondrous peace of mind... for can I not enjoy the sun... and feel its tender glow... yes, I am blessed with eyes to see... nature's divine tableau... summer, and all her gold, is mine... winter is mine to share... I walk the roads, I sail the seas... I breathe the cool fresh air... and love is mine, the sincere kind... what more could I desire... than to have a little home... warmed by true love's fire... to think all this is mine, all mine... the earth, the sky, the sea... thank God I can appreciate... what He has given me.

Tells About Migrants
The Rev. William Sullivan, assistant at the host parish, talked on migratory labor in the diocese, with special emphasis on what is being done in this locality, noting that a Spanish speaking priest comes to the Harrisburg Diocese each year to meet and speak with the laborers and their families, that rosaries, pamphlets, New Testaments, etc., are distributed, with the reading material in the Spanish language. Fr. Sullivan also pointed out that when the migratory laborers come to this diocese, they must first be found employment, and then given a means of transportation to the place of employment. He also explained conditions from the laborers' point of view, 600 of whom are in Adams County.

A reception was held at the American Legion. For a wedding trip to the Poconos, the bride chose a grey sheath dress with black accessories. They will reside at 573 W. Market St., York.

The bride is a graduate of De-lone Catholic High School. She is employed by the Drs. Wolff, Gifford and Doo.

The groom is a graduate of York Catholic High School and served with the U. S. Army for two years. He is employed as an electrician by John Z. Barton, Inc., York.

Out-of-town guests were from Altoona, York, Lancaster, Hanover, McSherrystown, Shamokin, Littlestown, New Oxford, Pittsburgh and Virginia.

Red Cross Is In Community Chest Here; Gives National And Local Services Daily

Twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week every week, the Red Cross is on the job around the world — and in Adams County through the county's chapter of the American Red Cross.

The Red Cross, in which volunteer workers far outnumber the paid staff here and in the national organization, has been described as "people helping people."

Through its Home Service the Red Cross chapter here carries out its primary charter obligation to give assistance to servicemen and veterans and their dependents. In the last year in Adams County, the local chapter 24 assisted 805 families including families of 610 servicemen, 135 veterans and 60 civilians.

Helps Servicemen, Vets
The Red Cross has helped active servicemen with allotments, health-welfare reports, verifications of information for emergency leaves, in the gathering and preparing of reports required by the military and in consulting with servicemen and their families about many kinds of family problems.

Veterans have been assisted in filing claims for service-connected and non-service benefits, hospitalization, education and training, referrals to special services and in family consultations. The Home Service has offered referral and consulting services of a similar nature to civilians.

The Red Cross gives emergency financial assistance for medical care for children of servicemen, transportation for the family of a sick serviceman or veteran and basic maintenance in the critical periods before disability claims or allotments come through.

Other Community Services
Other top community services rendered by the county chapter of the Red Cross include first aid services and the summer water safety instruction classes.

During the season just ended, more than 1,200 children and adults took water safety training in swim classes conducted free of charge by the county Red Cross. Hundreds completed their swimming tests satisfactorily and earned Red Cross certificates for varying degrees of excellence. Many hundreds more learned to conquer their fear of water and learned to swim to some degree even though they may not have passed final tests.

The 1959 Water Safety program of the Adams County Red Cross chapter was its greatest ever.

Other Community Services
Also under the heading of community service and preparedness, the Red Cross conducted classes in first aid at Gettysburg College, New Oxford High School, Fairfield High School and for members of the McSherrystown Fire Co.

Still under the head of community service, the Red Cross provides convalescent supplies without charge. There is a constant waiting list for Red Cross hospital beds, walkers, 24 pairs of crutches, wheel chairs, back rests and canes. The Red Cross also provides an emergency travelers' aid service in a community that may have more such cases than many other towns its size because of its "crossroads" location and its thousands of annual visitors.

The county Red Cross chapter too has assisted with emergency needs of six families who lost their homes by fire in the last year. These families were given assistance ranging from emergency care, food, clothing and bedding — and the Red Cross also helped channel public donations of household furnishings and clothing to families in emergencies.

Help Needy Everywhere
The nursing service offered and constantly given by the Red Cross-trained nurses' aids, their standing offer of cooperation with Civil Defense and the Red Cross service of stepping into emergency needs for securing blood donors from its donor files are other Red Cross services the community would find it difficult to do without.

Besides these strictly local services, the Adams County Red Cross does its share to help veterans and servicemen in hospitals and clinics. There are gifts, too, for servicemen at the holidays.

A share of all donations to the Red Cross here in the annual drive goes to national Red Cross and its fund for disaster service anywhere in the nation be it flood, fire, tornado or other type of disaster in which people suffer and need help.

Red Cross offers a means for everyone to lend a helping hand to people nearby and far away who need help and are not likely to get it or get it in time without the Red Cross.

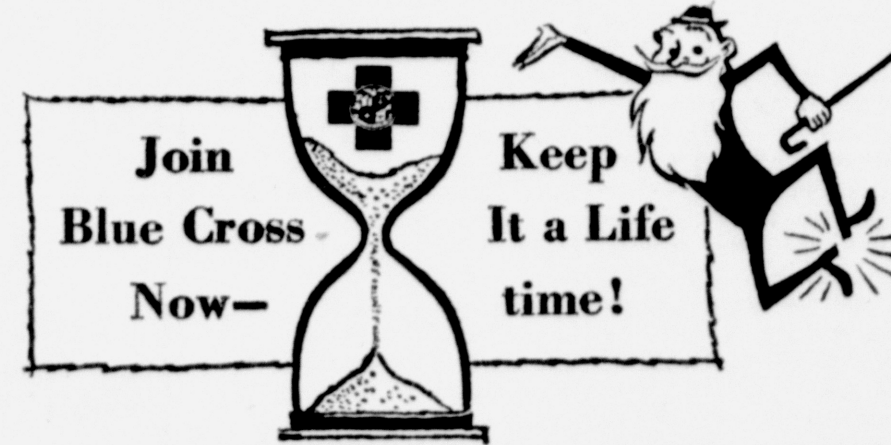

Gettysburgians give to the Red Cross through the Community Chest.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The Commissioners have had placed in the new Court House a large and beautiful chandelier with ten Mount Vesuvius Self-generating Gas Lights, or portable Carbono-hydrogen Gas Generators, and fixtures upon it. It hangs from the centre of the ceiling in the large Court room.

At the late York Fair among the premiums awarded was one to Mr. Franklin Hersen, of Oxford, for his horse and one to Miss Ellen Himes, for raised-work reception chair.

Messrs. Rahter & Bro. of Littlestown were awarded a handsome premium for a splendid buggy. They were also awarded a premium for an elegant set of Carriage Harness.

William McClean, Esq. of this place, has been appointed Notary Public in the room of E. Martin, Esq., deceased.

Mr. Saac Sell, of Littlestown, has sent to us a beautiful Apple, grown upon his lot, of the Mammoth Pippin species, which weighs one pound, and measures 1 1/2 inches in circumference. Its fragrance, too, is delicious.

On the evening of the 9th, last one of our townsmen, Mr. George W. Cook, who was acting temporarily as a brakeman on our Railroad, was passing over the tops of some cars as its customary and not thinking of his proximity to a bridge at Red Hill cut, which passes over the Railroad, he was struck on the head and knocked down under the cars. He was carried along for a short distance and much mangled before the train could be stopped. He was insensible from the time he received the blow and died in a very short time, before the train could reach here. He was aged 40 years and 22 days and leaves a wife and two children.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Fairfield Items: The past week has been one of sudden changes, from cold to hot, and this morning it is more like a May morning than October.

Mr. John M. Musselman is having his house repaired, quite an improvement.

A good number of chickens died in this vicinity last week, and not by cholera either.

Mr. L. Zimmerman and son, of Emmitsburg are about putting the finishing touch of painting on the house and barn of Mr. James A. Marshall, which is quite an improvement.

Local Items: Abram Meals, of Huntingdon township, has lost 30 hogs by cholera.

Isaac Starnor, Franklin township, sends us a lot of fine smoke-house apples. Mr. Starnor is an enthusiastic Blaine and Logan man.

If you want a good buggy, carriage, or vehicle, call on Solomon D. Mehning, Littlestown, who is turning out first-class, substantial work.

Gettysburg Lodge I.O.O.F. of this place recently elected the following officers: N. G., William Miller; V. G., George D. Thorn; Treas., J. L. Schick; Asst. Sec., William C. Ziegler; delegate to Grand Lodge, R. D. Arnor.

The newly elected Chiefs of Cayugas Tribe, I. O. R. M. are S. Fred Thron; S. S., B. F. Myers; J. S., D. K. Slaughterback; P. T. A. Warren.

Sales: Peter Swisher recently sold to John Rosensteel 156 perches of land on the east side of the Battletfield Avenue, near Round Top, for $150 cash; also to William Young, a lot of several acres, adjoining the above on the west, for $125 cash.

Peter Swisher has purchased from William Patterson, Jr., about 30 acres of cleared land, from what was formerly the Elchelberger farm, at $30 per acre.

New Church: As is well known the members of the A.M.E. Zion church of this place are arranging to build a new church on South Washington street. A lot

Today's Talk

TALKING OUT OF TURN

There is a level in the affairs of men. A kind of plane on which the average ability rests — and quite contentedly so. Thus it has always been.

But — thank God — not every man is compelled to keep his place. He may move on. He may move up. In the democracy of service a man is free. In the open field of aspiration. Opportunity ever stands as a sort of power-angel.

If you are able to back your word with a bigger deed than the one who is already talking, the floor is yours. Take it. Have the courage to step out from the crowd. Do your talking and your deed, no matter whether it is your turn or not. Time and trains travel on schedule. So does genius.

There are few spectacles more inspiring than the one where a MAN quietly and unfussily says his say and does his job without regard to time, chance or circumstance. The literature of the world is dedicated to the men and women who talked and acted out of turn. There is some difference between convention and construction. Of course it costs to move on. But —

"Only those are crowned and sainted
Who with grief have been acquainted,
Making nations nobler, freer."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Keep Enthusiasm Alive!"

Just Folks

THE NIGHT BEFORE

The Night Before is a master grim
Who rules the world in a heartless way.
Whoever has laughed and danced with him
The toll that he demands must pay.

He bids you play when you ought to rest
And never a word of price is said;
He bids you smile and he bids you jest,
But he gets his pay when the night is fled.

He clouds your eyes and he dulls your brain,
He saps the strength that you need today,
And none can dodge him—to try is vain;
He'll haunt your soul till he gets his pay.

He kills ambition to get his price,
And failure leaves at the young man's door;
The strength of today is the sacrifice
He makes who reveals the Night Before.

The Night Before is a master grim;
He leaves youth feeble and dull and slow
And pale of face and gaunt of limb,
And takes youth down in his undertow.

So, I bid you 'ware, as you have your fling;
Tomorrow comes when your fun is o'er,
And you've no strength left for your journeying,
For you've spent it all on the Night Before.

PACKERS EDGE

'49ERS; COLTS TAKE THRILLER

By MIKE RATHER

The Green Bay Packers, long dormant in the National Football League, have catapulted to the top of the heap on the shoulders of a hand-me-down quarterback and a shrewd new coach.

Suddenly the only stable element in the upset-prone circuit, the Packers won their third straight Sunday, edging the San Francisco 49ers 21-20 in a battle of the league's only undefeated clubs.

The main offensive threat for the Packers—who haven't won a division title since 194—was Lamar McHan, picked up without fanfare from the Chicago Cardinals on a trial basis.

Meet Rams Next

The former Arkansas star clicked on a 21-yard scoring pass to Gary Knefel early in the fourth quarter for the deciding touchdown.

A clever offensive tactician, new coach Vince Lombardi began juggling the downtrodden Green Bay outfit as soon as he took over.

The Packers next meet the Los Angeles Rams, who won their first game in convincing fashion by upsetting Chicago's Bears 28 - 21.

Matson Decisive

In other games defending champion Baltimore rallied to defeat Detroit 31-24, New York edged Cleveland 10-6 Washington upended Chicago's Cardinals 23-14 and Philadelphia turned back Pittsburgh 28-24.

Ollie Matson, acquired by the Rams for nine players, was the decisive factor as Los Angeles, now 1 - 2, came from behind against the Bears (1-2). Matson ground out 199 yards in 31 carries and set up three touchdown strikes by quarterback Billy Wade.

Johnny Unitas bailed the Colts (2-1) out of danger. He threw three touchdown passes, including a 54-yarder to Ray Berry that put Baltimore out front in the last quarter. It was the 28th consecutive league game in which Unitas has thrown at least one scoring aerial.

Easy For Redskins

Don Chandler's booming punts kept the Browns (1-2) deep in their own territory most of the day and the Giants (2-1) won despite gaining only 250 yards to Cleveland's 343.

With Ralph Guglielmi moving in for starting quarterback Eddie LeBaron, the Redskins (2-1) had little trouble with the fumbling Cardinals (1-2).

Defensive back Jimmy Carr starred for the Eagles (2-1). He intercepted two passes and deflected a TD-bound Pittsburgh aerial late in the game.

WEEKEND ON TV

TOUGH GOING

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Milton Berle and Danny Thomas were rocking like a pair of old gaffers setting a scene on the Milton Berle Show Sunday night when Thomas remarked that "working in television is tough."

"I know something tougher," said Berle. "Watching it."

The weekend viewing wasn't all tough going but the comedy-variety specials made most of the work.

No Taste For Skelton

I will concede that Red Skelton worked harder than I did. He was the star of a Friday night special celebrating his 30 years in show business and he was in front of the cameras every minute. He ended up with some trick photography which put four or five Skeltons in different costumes simultaneously on the screen.

Skelton is, among his peers, considered to be a master of comic invention. As far as I am concerned, he is an acquired taste like parsnips. So far learning to like parsnips has kept me too busy to like Skelton.

Idiot bumpkins and tramps with blacked-out teeth don't roll me out of my chair.

Other performers, including Burl Ives and Tommy Sands, had scarcely anything to do on the Skelton special.

Similar To Bob Hope

Then along came the Berle special, and Milton turned it into a sort of anniversary show — 10 years on TV. And although Berle proclaimed himself to be a comedian who has left the old style of funny business behind him, most of the show was devoted to recalling the brash old Berle with the crazy clothes and the weird makeup. For this I missed Ethel Merman on the Ed Sullivan show.

Berle, too, used trick photography to talk to himself: an exchange of insults between the "new" and sincere comedian and the old hyperthyroid comic. He also had a long and not very funny skit of a gangster show, which was

Bullets Yield 15-14 To Lehigh After Early Lead; Penalties Total 180 Yards

A touchdown by Al Richmond and Joe Posillico's placement with 6:53 minutes remaining in the game was enough for the Lehigh Engineers to squeeze out a 15-14 win over the Gettysburg Bullets Saturday afternoon in a Middle Atlantic Conference encounter before 3,000 Memorial Field spectators.

With the Bullets leading 14-8, Lehigh took over in the final period on its own 17-yard line after holding Gettysburg on four downs. It took the Engineers 11 plays to cover the 83 yards to pay dirt. With a third down and five yards to go, quarterback Bob Schett fired a pass into the end zone to right halfback Al Richmond for the tying six points. Left Guard Joe Posillico followed with a perfect placement to put the visitors out in front for good.

Following a Gettysburg punt after 2:50 minutes had elapsed in the first frame, Lehigh was driven back to its own 44. On the third play from scrimmage Frank Temme, Philadelphia, Bullet guard, intercepted a partially blocked Scheu pass and raced 33 yards to the goal line to give coach Gene Haas' gridirers their first score and a lead in the ball game. Earl Little, sophomore quarterback, booted the extra point.

Aerial Sets Score
Gettysburg had built up a 14-0 lead at the end of the first period with another TD four minutes later. After an exchange of punts, Gettysburg had the ball on the visitors' 32. The Bullets gained one yard on two carries. On the third play Little fadded back and winged an aerial to Buddy Goodman who was thrown out of bounds on the one-yard line. Sophomore fullback Terry Looker then bolted off guard for the TD. Again Little's placement was good.

With 5:36 minutes remaining in the first half, Lehigh broke into the scoring column for the first time. Charlie Lull, Engineer fullback, intercepted a Little pass and dashed 25 yards to the Gettysburg 32. On six short ground gaining plays Lehigh advanced the ball to the home team's 6. Sophomore halfback Boyd Taylor then scooted around end and into the end zone for the score. Taylor, after fumbling the ball, fell across the goal line to give Lehigh two extra points.

Bullet Defense Good
The Bullets, who were underdogs going into the game, did an excellent job in retaining the Lehigh forces, in particular on defense. On three different occasions in the third period, Lehigh moved the ball down to the Gettysburg six and three times the young

LEE WILL GET BIG CHANCE ON WEDNESDAY

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Curley Lee gets his big chance as a sub in a national television fight with Cleveland Williams at Houston Wednesday night.

Many a youngster has cashed in on the break and made the long leap to the top flight on short notice. Williams, however, may be too tough an obstacle for the 22-year-old Los Angeles heavyweight prospect.

Lee was called in to replace injured Sonny Liston, the high-ranking contender from Philadelphia.

Has Won Nine Straight

The Arizona-born ex-GI has won nine straight and boasts a 15-1 record in two years of pro fighting. He won his last five fights by kayos and has stopped 12 foes in all.

If he can punch as well as his record indicates, Curley can make it a rough night for the 26-year-old Williams. The Houston veteran is a solid boxer in his own right. Williams, a 210-pounder, has a 45-3 record, including 37 kayos.

The ten-rounder will be the only national TV scrap of the week. It will be beamed by ABC 9 p.m., Eastern Standard Time. The Friday night TV time over NBC has been pre-empted for a special non-boxing show.

Middleweight contender Holly Mims of Washington takes on Henry Hank of Detroit in a 12-rounder at New Orleans tonight.

Lightweight contenders Johnny Bussio of New York and Battling Torres of Mexico City clash in a 10-rounder at Los Angeles Thursday night.

Fairfield Is 10-0 Victor; Series Tied

Fairfield knotted its championship playoff series with Taneytown for the Pen-Mar League title at one game each Sunday afternoon by taking a 10-0 decision at Taneytown.

Next Sunday at 2 o'clock the teams will clash in the third and deciding game at Taneytown, the site having been decided by a flip of a coin.

Guy Weikert, star Fairfield hurler, permitted Taneytown six widely scattered hits and fanned eight batters enroute to Sunday's triumph.

The winners packed their score into three innings, tabbing three in the first, four in the third and three more in the sixth.

Find Faults In Curfew Law For Juvenile Control

This is the third and last in a series of articles on juvenile delinquency problems in Pennsylvania, with special reference to the value of the curfew law.

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—One of the complaints against the curfew as enforced in Pennsylvania is that the law doesn't go far enough.

To be really effective against juvenile delinquency, it is argued, a curfew law should be uniform over the state; it should give the police more power to deal with offenders; it should apply sterner penalties against parents who won't cooperate.

Another fault is found in the great urban centers, especially Philadelphia, where the official satisfaction with curfew is not shared by all who are keenly concerned with the problem of teenage violence.

Crime Before Curfew
The critics point out that some of the most savage juvenile crimes have been committed in the hours before curfew. They cite also that much wrongdoing can be traced to youths from 18 to 21, who are beyond the reach of the enforcers.

"The older the kids, the worse they are," asserted a Philadelphia area peace officer.

"Most of the trouble comes from the older kids," asserted a Philadelphia area peace officer.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made from those 16 to 18," was the report from Portage borough in Cambria County.

"Better With It"
From several quarters came comment that trouble is more likely to break out at school dances, football games and other sports programs for which the teenagers get special dispensation.

Against the weight of unfavorable—or lukewarm opinion, those who feel the law is effective counter with this assertion: "We are a lot better off with the curfew than without it."

Here is a rundown on how the curfew works in the state:

PHILADELPHIA—The law, three years old, applies to all under 17. The deadline is 10:30 except on Friday and Saturday. Then it is midnight. No figures are available on the number of juveniles pulled in, but it is large. Many have been repeaters, up to a half dozen times. At that stage, parents are taken before magistrates and fined, even jailed, if circumstances warrant.

PITTSBURGH—"I don't favor a curfew for Pittsburgh because the majority of the children are well-behaved and don't need it," So says Safety Director Louis Rosenberg.

Only a few of Pittsburgh's suburbs have curfew. It appears to play no significant part in youth control in any but heavily industrial McKees Rocks. Joseph Thompson, police chief there, says his 10 o'clock curfew for those under 18 has all but wiped out juvenile delinquency. "It is so valuable in controlling youth crime," he asserted, "that the Legislature should make it state-wide."

JOHNSTOWN—Police Chief Charles Griffith says "the absence of any prolonged, concentrated or vicious forms of juvenile delinquency has obviated the necessity of a curfew law."

Franklin Borough, near Johnstown, has a new ordinance providing for a 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew for all under 18. When second offenders are brought in the parent or guardian is subject to fines of from $1 to $5 plus costs, or five days in jail. For a third offense, the teen-ager is cited for juvenile court action.

"A curfew provides a good check rein," asserted Burgess Joseph Galagaa.

WINDBOROUGH—This community has a 10 p.m. curfew applying to those up to 18. It has been in force since 1910 but lapsed from 1942 to 1952, because there was no way to sound a public warning, as the law specifies. Police say about the only difficulty they have in enforcement comes on nights when school dances are held.

Hazleton City and West Hazleton borough have 10 p.m. curfews, in force for several generations. Juvenile delinquency has never been a problem here.

Lancaster has had curfew since July 1, 1953. It applies to all under 17, sets a 10 p.m. deadline Sunday through Thursday, and 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Minors who work carry permits.

In the first full year of operation 87 juveniles were picked up, only three of them second offenders. Parents may be prosecuted when there are repeated violations.

Police Chief William B. Hersher says the curfew is a success in Lancaster.

ALLENSTOWN—Once considered a curfew but never followed through. Juvenile delinquency is not a major problem here. No curfew elsewhere in Lehigh County.

CHESTER—The curfew is 9 p.m. in winter, 10 p.m. in summer, Sunday through Thursday, with time extended Friday and Saturday, the law applying to those up to 18.

BEDFORD—No curfews in effect in Bedford County and none contemplated.

CHAMBERSBURG—Although this city has had a curfew of 10 p.m. to 5 a.m. since 1943, Police Chief Byers Schlichter doubts its merit.

HANOVER—Has had a 10 p.m. curfew since 1943. Police chief

Luxury Unlimited In Buick's 1960 Electra

The graceful sweep of Buick's sculptured styling is epitomized in the Electra 225 four-door hardtop, the most luxurious model in the Buick line. The exquisite styling of the Electra 225 has been enhanced by a luxurious brushed aluminum panel that extends along the bottom of the car from the front wheel housing to the rear bumper. All Electra series models carry the four ventiports on the front fenders to distinguish them from the other series. New features on all 1960 Buicks include a new transverse muffler which replaces the two mufflers previously used on cars equipped with dual exhaust systems. Also new is an adjustable instrument panel, the first in the automotive industry, which the driver can set to the viewing position most suited to his height.

chief John S. Berkheimer says "it aids greatly in controlling juvenile conduct by keeping boys and girls under 18 off the streets except on nights of school football or basketball games or school dances. The absence of major juvenile problems supports this opinion."

BEAVER FALLS—Most northern Beaver County towns have a curfew for those under 18, deadlines ranging from 10 to 11 p.m. Seldom are there any violations.

ELLWOOD CITY—No one remembers when the curfew was last enforced. All the same, it is kept handy, just in case it should be needed. Mischief rather than crime has been the story of most juvenile deviations from good behavior.

COATESVILLE—The summer schedule is 10:15 p.m. for those 16 and under; 11:15 for those 16 to 18. The winter schedule — 9:15 for those 16 and under; 10:15 for those 16 to 18. Add one hour Friday and Saturday. An extra half hour's grace is granted on nights of school affairs.

For a first offense, it is a reprimand, and the parent must pick up the offender at the police station. For the second offense the penalty is $10 and costs; for the third, $20; for the fourth $30.

MOUNT CARMEL—The city's long-time 9 o'clock curfew was extended to 10:30 about 10 years ago. Everyone under 16 must then be off the streets. Police Chief Tony MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet official has accused New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of displaying a cold war attitude by urging a cautious approach to any East-West trade expansion.

Georgi A. Zhukov, head of the Soviet state committee for cultural relations with other countries, said Rockefeller is among "those politicians who are out of step with the time, who are harping on the old tunes and who are trying to return the world to the cold war."

In a speech Thursday, Rockefeller said present Soviet policies are limiting world commerce. He urged Western countries to insist that Russia meet certain conditions before they agreed to any expansion of East-West trade.

FAREHAM, England (AP)—Sir Henry Tizard, one of the scientists who helped give Britain its radar warning system just before World War II, died Friday at his home near here. He was 74.

1,850 U. S. Marines were ordered to Mail Guard duty on October 20, 1926, by the President to put an end to daring and successful railway mail car robberies.

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Bill Stead and Maverick, a winning combination in unlimited hydroplane racing, are the victors of the first Reno Regatta.

Stead, a Reno cattleman, averaged 107.4 miles per hour Sunday on Pyramid Lake in three heats and won the $3,000 top prize money.

Nitrogen, a powerboat owned by Samuel DuPont of Wilmington, Del. and driven by Norm Evans of Spokane, was second. Third was Hawaii Kai III, piloted by Ron Musson, also of Spokane.

An estimated 20,000 spectators lined the Desert Lake, 33 miles northeast of Reno. The race previously was the Mile-High Regatta at Lake Tahoe. Stead and Maverick won the last one, a year ago.

DOCTOR GETS ACS HONORS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Meadville doctor has been presented a distinguished service award by the American Cancer Society.

Dr. Harry C. Winslow, who began a cancer control program in Crawford County 30 years ago, was honored at the annual banquet of the national society's Pennsylvania Division Saturday night.

Two other awards were made. Dr. Clarence McCullough, president of the Washington County unit, was cited for outstanding cancer control work in 1958. The Pennsylvania Division received an award for outstanding dedication and service of volunteers who have served on its board of directors.

It was announced that Pennsylvanians contributed $1,596,471 to the cancer crusade in 1959, a new high for the state.

The three-day meeting ended Sunday.

TRUCK IN FATAL BUS CRASH IN BAD CONDITION

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP)—Police say the empty tank truck which brought death to nine college girls and a professor had faulty air brakes and other worn mechanical parts.

The police statement was issued Sunday after mechanic Mark DiGiovanni examined the truck, that rammed a student-filled bus last Friday in North Brunswick.

Di Giovanni, who owns a Franklin Township garage, told authorities he found:

1. Enough grease on the brake lining of the left front wheel to enable the wheel to roll freely with the brakes on.

2. The brake lining of the right rear wheel worn down to the rivets.

3. Three of six air diaphragms on the trucks air brake system dry, rotted and broken.

4. Bushings on the rods that run to the brakes all worn, causing abnormal play in the mechanism.

Police feel that the brakes were no more than 50 per cent effective at the time of the accident.

Driver of the truck was Roscoe Poe, 54, of Brooklyn, who has been confined to Middlesex Hospital since Friday.

To Question Driver
Police said they would question him today.

Thus far, he said only that the Rt. 1 traffic light at Ryders La. was green in his direction when he crashed into the bus and that the bus had no rear lights.

Other than that, he said he had

An Appeal To The Citizens Of Our Community:

When outsiders—reporters, tourists or prospective residents—judge our community they look at many things: our history, our housing facilities—even our traffic problem and our architecture. These discussions make good conversation, but for me an even more important part of our reputation is the adequacy of the support we give to our community agencies.

The Gettysburg Community Chest is not just another drive. It is the annual opportunity for each Gettysburg citizen to assume his share of the responsibility for vital community services.

The Community Chest is not an end in itself. It is the means through which you contribute in one drive to the support of seven community agencies and the individual services which they represent. Last year Gettysburg contributed $23,650 toward a campaign goal of $26,800. This goal represents the minimum amount required to support the services and activities provided by the chest agencies. The challenge for this year's campaign is clear cut. A 15 per cent increase over last year's contributions will put the drive over the top.

I accepted the chairmanship of this campaign because after four years, whatever the ground rules, I feel very much a part of Gettysburg. I believe strongly that the test of a responsible community is responsible support of its community services. At this particular time I can think of no more effective testimony to the responsibility of Gettysburg than a successful 1960 Community Chest Campaign.

Sincerely yours,

Seymour B. Dunn

Mario Lanza Possessed Great Voice And Electric Energy

Editor's note Mario Lanza's unexpected death in Rome erased from the entertainment scene one of its most unorthodox characters. Alternately cocky and afraid, one day an idol, the next all but forgotten, he was a study in contrasts. Columnist Bob Thomas writes incisively of Lanza's career in two columns, the first of which follows.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mario Lanza had an enormous appetite for fame and the pleasures of life. It appears they were too much for him.

When Mario came to Hollywood, he was a wonder to see—handsome, muscular, charged with electric energy. He knew he was possessor of a great voice, and he was determined to share it with the world.

He could have sold anything, so enthusiastic was he. But he didn't have to sell his voice. All he had to do was open his mouth with a glass-shattering note, and producers agreed that his voice was a gift of God.

Mario was wheeling freely in his early MGM days. He sang for parties and benefits; he loved having people discover his voice for the first time.

He lived and talked as he pleased. His language was tinged with the explicit words of Philadelphia streets and Army barracks, and this caused pain for his leading ladies, Kathryn Grayson and Ann Blyth. But no one could discipline Mario. His animal spirits were high, and so was his popularity.

Lanza hit his zenith with "The Great Caruso." It was a tremendous success, breaking all records at the Radio City Music Hall.

Then what happened to him? Nobody really knows. Mario fought all his life to get to the top, and when he got there he didn't know what to do with himself.

He started feuding with the studio. He was assigned an Army picture, "Because You're Mine." Mario refused, arguing that the public was sick of war. He finally agreed to the film. It was a flop.

He made recordings for "The Student Prince," but failed to appear for filming. MGM put Edmund Purdom in the role and slapped a five-million-dollar suit on Lanza.

A Sorry Tale

The rest was a sorry tale of unkept engagements and withdrawals from public view and even the company of his closest friends.

At any time during his troubles, Mario could have gone on the road and earned a million dollars with his voice. But he no longer had the nerve or the desire to face an audience.

Now he is tragically gone, dead of a heart attack at 38. Hollywood is deprived of a colorful figure, and the gift of his voice is lost.

Tomorrow: Lanza's fantastic appetite.

Lanza hit his zenith with "The Great Caruso." It was a tremendous success, breaking all records at the Radio City Music Hall.

Then what happened to him? Nobody really knows. Mario fought all his life to get to the top, and when he got there he didn't know what to do with himself.

He started feuding with the studio. He was assigned an Army picture, "Because You're Mine." Mario refused, arguing that the public was sick of war. He finally agreed to the film. It was a flop.

He made recordings for "The Student Prince," but failed to appear for filming. MGM put Edmund Purdom in the role and slapped a five-million-dollar suit on Lanza.

A Sorry Tale

The rest was a sorry tale of unkept engagements and withdrawals from public view and even the company of his closest friends.

At any time during his troubles, Mario could have gone on the road and earned a million dollars with his voice. But he no longer had the nerve or the desire to face an audience.

Now he is tragically gone, dead of a heart attack at 38. Hollywood is deprived of a colorful figure, and the gift of his voice is lost.

Tomorrow: Lanza's fantastic appetite.

His early MGM days. He sang for parties and benefits; he loved having people discover his voice for the first time.

He lived and talked as he pleased. His language was tinged with the explicit words of Philadelphia streets and Army barracks, and this caused pain for his leading ladies, Kathryn Grayson and Ann Blyth. But no one could discipline Mario. His animal spirits were high, and so was his popularity.

Littlestown CHURCH NEWS IS REPORTED

The October junior service on the subject "Joy" was presented by the Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh, pastor, during the worship service on Sunday morning in Redeemer's United Church of Christ. The Junior Choir sang an anthem and the regular morning message by the pastor was on the subject "I Am Joseph." The altar flowers were presented in memory of Mrs. Amelia Crabbs by her daughter, Mrs. Clement A. Sneringer and her son, Paul A. Crabbs. In preparation for the 100th anniversary observance and anniversary book in 1960, the minister would appreciate having information on and pictures for the Rev. David N. Dittmar and George P. Stem; also, a photo of the interior of the former church.

Announcements of events at Redeemer's this week include: Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society in the church social hall, when the hostesses will be Mrs. John D. Basehoar, Mrs. Lloyd E. Crouse and Mrs. Glenn S. Kauffman. The Women's Guild members are urged to attend the fall Regional

Bert Bell, Commissioner Of Pro Football, Expires

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League died of a heart attack Sunday leaving a void the men he served say they never really can fill.

Workshop in Emmanuel United Church of Christ, Abbottstown, on Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Those going are asked to bring: box luncheon and meet at Redeemer's Church not later than 9 a.m. The Junior Choir will rehearse at 7 p.m., Thursday and Senior Choir rehearsal will follow at 7:30 p.m. The Women's Guild will conduct the annual Thanksgiving service on Sunday, October 25, 10:30 a.m., when the guest speaker will be Mrs. Paul H. Streich, missionary to Ecuador.

Plan Mission Sunday
Mission Sunday will be observed in St. Aloysius Catholic Church next Sunday when there will be a special offering for the missions. Through the monetary sacrifice of Catholics in the United States, the Holy Father is able to help over 135,000 missionary priests, sisters and brothers who maintain even more than 1,200 hospitals, 350 leprosaria, 45,000 elementary schools, 5,000 high and superior schools, 1,100 professional and normal schools, 2,000 orphanages, 332 homes for the aged and 3,400 dispensaries. Sixty per cent of the funds collected go for foreign missions and 40 per cent for the Home Mission of the United States. Each parishioner is asked by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. W. William A. Boyle, to do his share.

Next Sunday also will be the annual harvest in-gathering for the Sisters of Mercy teaching in the parochial school. Donations of foodstuffs, or cash, may be taken to the convent on M St. anytime during the afternoon or evening. Daily mass in St. Aloysius Church this week and throughout October will begin at 8:15 a.m., except Saturday when mass is at 7:30 a.m.

Had Previous Attack
Bell's three children, Bert Jr., 23; Upton, 21, and Jane, 17, were with their father when he died. They attended the game with him. The commissioner also is survived by his widow, the former Frances Upton, a one-time musical comedy star.

Bell suffered a mild heart attack last February. He had been under a physician's care ever since. His travel had been limited, and a great deal of the league work he did at his suburban Narberth home.

Dr. Paul Schrode of the University Hospital said Bell was unconscious when he first saw him. The doctor said:

"Just Gasping"
"He was just gasping. He was pale white. He never regained consciousness. It must have been a massive thing to take his life so instantly."

The owners, of course, were too shocked to give much thought about a successor. Under league rules, in the event of the commissioner's death, a league meeting to elect a successor must be called within 30 days. Club owners have the alternative of appointing a president to serve until the annual meeting in January.

Acting Commissioners
For the moment, however, the acting commissioner is Austin H. Gunesel, treasurer of the NFL and a former FBI agent. The constitution says the treasurer automatically becomes acting commissioner upon the commissioner's death, to serve until a new commissioner is appointed. Gunesel lives in Narberth, not far from Bell's home.

Speculation on a possible successor would have to include such names as George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears and a pioneer of the pro game; the violatle George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins; Don Kellert, successful young general manager of the Baltimore Colts; Paul Brown, renowned coach-executive of the Cleveland Browns, and Joe Donoghue, assistant league treasurer.

Lauded By Many
How the owners felt about Bell was indicated in comments Sunday after they learned of his death.

Paul Brown — "He was an awful lot of this professional football — probably the outstanding commissioner in sports."

George Marshall — "They will never find a commissioner as good as Bell, no matter whom they pick."

Two Youths Killed When Car Hits Tree

SHAMOKIN, Pa. (AP) — Two Shamokin youths were killed and three other teen-agers injured Sunday when their auto slammed against a tree along a rural road six miles west of here.

William Bailey, 19, and Paul R. Stanchick, 12, were killed instantly in the wreck on the Iris Valley Road.

Betty Lou Hummel, 18, of Paxinos, near Shamokin, was taken to Sunbury Hospital.

Ronald Pickler, 18, identified by state police as the driver, and Robert Bresko, 15, both of Shamokin, were admitted to the Shamokin State Hospital.

BELL'S DEATH BY RIFLE SHOT

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP) — A bullet from a rifle fired by his cousin fatally wounded 12-year-old Gregory Campbell of Media, Delaware County, while they were target shooting on their grandfather's farm near Lock Haven Sunday.

Gregory, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Campbell (of Robin Mill Road), died of a head wound several hours later in Lock Haven Hospital.

State police said the rifle discharged accidentally while it was held by Richard Redner, 10, of Rochester, N. Y.

The bullet, which passed through the front of Gregory's head, then grazed Richard's father, Willis. Redner was treated at the hospital and released.

The boys were target shooting with their fathers on the farm of Lee Campbell, near Woolrich.

At first no one realized it was Bell who had collapsed. Several persons stood up in the stands, a guard rushed across the field for oxygen and an ambulance was brought in.

The tip off it was Bell came when newsmen recognized his 17-year-old daughter, Jane, running along a cinder track from the opposite stands to the ambulance.

Children Nearby As doctors at the hospital worked over Bell trying to revive him, Jane and his two sons, Bert Jr., 23, and Upton, 21, paced the floor, crying.

Then, without warning, Jane broke out in a loud cry: "Oh, no Oh, no"

"Is he dead?" someone asked. The Rev. John Walsh of St. James Roman Catholic Church, who administered the last rites of extreme unction, nodded yes.

Upton and Bert Jr. and other friends led Jane from the hospital to a car. They phoned their mother, Mrs. Frances Bell, who was at their suburban Narberth home, to tell her of the death.

Then, without warning, Jane broke out in a loud cry: "Oh, no Oh, no"

John Brown's Momentous Raid On Harper's Ferry Took Place Century Ago This Week

Editor's Note — A century ago the gulf between North and South was rapidly widening. But the soldering animosity over slavery was yet to be ignited by one dramatic, emotionally charged incident. This was provided by a stubborn, passionate man and the setting he chose was Harper's Ferry. Here is the first of two stories on John Brown's momentous raid 100 years ago.

By JOHN LUNDQUIST
HARPERS FERRY, W. Va. (AP) — The men were eager to get going. For weeks, most had been hiding by day in the farm house, venturing out only at night.

Now in the chill rain of an October evening, they loaded a wagon with a sledge hammer, crowbars and a quantity of pikes — long-handled poles with sharp metal tips.

A bearded old man with fierce, burning eyes mounted the wagon and tugged at the reins. It creaked onto the narrow Maryland road. Eighteen men fell in two abreast behind, rifles on their shoulders and two revolvers in each belt. The date was Sunday, Oct. 16, 1859, and John Brown was beginning a march that led to the scaffold — and immortality. His target: Harper's Ferry and its federal arsenal four miles away across the Potomac in Virginia. His mission: to free the slaves, everywhere.

Next weekend Harper's Ferry, with a present population of 1,500, will hold a commemorative observance of the event.

When Brown struck his blow at slavery, the town was a community of some 3,000. It was still in Virginia; not until the Civil War did the western part of the Old Dominion split off and become a new state, West Virginia.

Brown Was A Leader
Then, its industry was mainly weapons, an important factor in Brown's choice.

John Brown had the look and manner of a leader. Although 59, he was vigorous in step and bearing. His firm, white-bearded face was topped by a shock of thick hair.

There is argument about Brown's precise plan, but apparently he expected that both antislavery whites and Negro slaves in this border region would rise to his support once he had stuck forcefully at slaveholders.

Town Isolated
His band crossed the Potomac bridge at Harper's Ferry, captured its civilian guard, and moved in on the arsenal, armory and rifle works without opposition. Telegraph lines were cut, temporarily isolating the town.

Soon the town was awakening to the intrusion, and the 34 hours that Brown's raid lasted were crowded with pathos, revenge and courage. There was also irony. A raider guarding the Potomac bridge mortally wounded Heyward Shepherd, a free Negro baggage-master who had failed to obey a command to halt.

Deaths Resulted
Other victims included the town's beloved mayor, Fontaine Beckham, who was shot peering around a water tank Monday afternoon to see what was happening to his community. Two raiders captured by citizens were killed.

As day broke Monday, Brown's chances to get away with booty from the arsenal slipped by. No support came for his crusade.

By Monday night, Marines under Col. Robert E. Lee—later to command the Confederate armies in the Civil War—arrived from Washington to quell the militia which had rushed in from nearby towns. Lee's assistant was Lt. J. E. B. Stuart, who would soon be plaguing Union armies as the South's ablest cavalry leader.

Two Sons Killed
John Brown and his remaining men were boxed up in the small, brick fire engine house, only five among them still unharmed. Among those dying on the cold floor were two of Brown's sons, Oliver and Watson. Oliver, just 20, died Monday night. Watson lay moaning nearby, beseeching his father to end his sufferings.

"If you must die, die like a man," John Brown said. By next morning, Watson, 24, was dead. And now as he crouched with his helpless raiders and about 10 prisoners in the fire house, death drew near to John Brown himself.

Tomorrow: Victory in Failure.

Knuckler Came Easy
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Eddie Gene Fisher, 23-year-old Giant rookie pitcher, says the knuckle ball came easy to him, even though his University of Oklahoma coach wouldn't permit him to use the pitch.

Fisher appeared in 22 games for Corpus Christi and in 16 for Phoenix before making his major league debut. He won his first start, too, beating the Pirates, 4-1 on June 22.

PERSONAL PROPERTY

FLEET CHIEF — Vice Admiral George W. Anderson Jr. is the new commander of the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean. He succeeded Vice Admiral C. E. Ekstrom.

ACTRESS, 26, IS MURDERED

BRACKETTVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Investigators today blamed a tottering romance for the knife slaying of a personable young actress here on location to make a movie.

Blonde Ladean Ethridge, 26, from Hollywood, Calif., died with a hunting knife in her heart early Sunday. She had just packed to leave a house she shared with five men in her summer theater troupe.

Witnesses told County Atty. John J. Tobin she gasped "I love you" to the man who stabbed her before collapsing on the living room floor.

Held For Murder
Sheriff John Sheedy jailed Chester Harvey Smith, 32, a slight 140-pounder from Hollywood, on a murder charge. He was working as an extra in the film "The Alamo."

"She was getting a better part in the movie," Sheedy said, "and she was moving out on Smith and the others. He thought he was going to lose her."

Miss Ethridge, known professionally as Ladean Guey, and her company rented a house at Spoford, nine miles south of here, after landing jobs in the film being produced by actor John Wayne.

Justice of the Peace Albert Postell ordered Smith held without bond pending grand jury action on the murder charge.
